UN General Assembly Ends Year's Business

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly agreed today to a plan to wind up its year-end business without a showdown over the Soviet Union's voting rights.

Under the formula, announced to the 115-nation assembly, seats to become vacant on the U.N. Security Council Dec. 31 would be filled by a private poll of delegations, to be conducted by the assembly president, Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana.

The Security Council election and adoption of a resolution authorizing some spending after Jan. 1 were the main obstacles to recessing the assembly. It is expected to finish either later today or Wednesday morning and adjourn until Jan. 11.

Quaison-Sackey told the assembly he would conduct the proposed poll in his office, and announce the results during the afternoon.

The only contest was between Jordan and Mali for the seat being vacated by Morocco. The Netherlands, Uruguay and Malaysia were unopposed for the other seats to be filled.

The effect of the recess was to postpone a confrontation between the United States and the Soviet Union over Article 19 of the U. N. charter, which provides for the loss of voting rights for countries two years in arrears in paying assessments. The Soviet Union and six other Communist countries are in this category.

Diplomatic sources said no progress was made Monday toward settling that dispute. They said Secretary-General U Thant might appeal to the assembly for voluntary contributions to improve U.N. finances, crippled by unpaid assessments.

The sources reported that Quaison-Sackey got the agreement of delegates from Jordan, Mali, the Soviet Union, the United States and others to an informal voting plan.

Delegations would file through Thant's office to drop secret ballots into a box stating their preferences among the candidates for the four council seats that become vacant at the end of the year — the Netherlands to succeed Brazil, Malaysia to succeed Czechoslovakia and Jordan or Mali to succeed Morocco.

If either Jordan or Mali had something near the required two-thirds majority, the other would withdraw.

Bill Nears $1-Million In This Area

The total tax bill of Kansas City Power & Light Company in its seven-county east district, including Carroll, Chariton, Howard, Lafayette, Pettis, Randolph and Saline, will reach nearly $1 million for 1964, A. V. Hershey, Brunswick, manager of the district announced today.

Property taxes in the seven counties totaling $945,780 will be paid or Tuesday (Dec. 29). In addition, Hershey said that by the end of the year the investor-owned utility will also have paid franchise taxes of $36,135 to 27 municipalities in the seven counties, bringing the total tax payments to $981,915.

These taxes are part of a total Missouri 1964 tax bill of $7,692,818 paid by the firm in 16 counties and 50 municipalities.

Hershey said that Carroll Co. heads the list among the east district counties with total property and franchise tax payments of $285,930. Other counties and total payments are: Chariton—$246,527; Saline—$218,271; Lafayette—$141,731; Howard—$57,616; Pettis—$25,744; and Randolph—$6,096. He pointed out that the firm is the largest taxpayer in Carroll, Chariton, Lafayette and Saline Counties.

More than 63 percent of the firm's property taxes in the seven counties are paid in the form of school district taxes, Hershey said. "This total of $609,878 would be enough money to provide a school year's education for more than 1,500 area school pupils, based on current state education cost figures."

Brink's Loss Estimated At $223,000

Three Robbers In Virtual Replay Of Earlier Holdup

CHICAGO (AP)—Brink's Inc., estimated today that the company lost $223,000 to three robbers who overpowered two guards and two Roman Catholic priests in a church rectory.

The robbery at Divine Savior church Monday was a virtual replay of last week's half-million-dollar holdup at a church in Paterson, N.J.

A. S. Genet, the president of Brink's, and Donald Hoagland, vice president, said in a joint statement the loss was "only an estimate" and that a more accurate figure will be available "late tomorrow."

Hoagland said "a very large portion of the loss was in checks — probably recoverable." He would not estimate how much of the loss was in cash. The funds were insured, he said.

The gunmen invaded the church rectory in suburban Norridge, on Chicago's northwest edge, tied up two priests and awaited the arrival of the Brink's truck, making its rounds of customer collections. When the truck arrived, they ambushed a guard, slugged him and tied him up and drove the truck away.

The gunmen wore halloween masks and a ski hood.

After they tied up the guard and priests in the rectory, one of them removed the guard's jacket, donned it and, averting his face, gained entry to the locked truck from the unsuspecting Brink's driver.

Inside the gunman took over the vehicle and let in an accomplice. They held the driver at gunpoint while driving away from the rectory as the third man followed in the car.

In the Paterson robbery, three gunmen wearing Halloween masks robbed a bank truck while it was picking up the Sunday collection at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The bandits made off with the truck containing $513,000 after binding four priests and guards who entered the rectory to pick up the money.

Joseph W. Tottinham, assistant manager of Brink's Chicago office, said he was unable to estimate the amount stolen Monday. He said it was a "chain store truck," which picks up funds for deposit from chain stores, small businesses, filling stations, and churches.

"We don't know how much money was taken," Lt. George Gruber of the Norridge police said. "We won't know until after"

Versailles Man Involved In Tragic Crash

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP)—Six persons were killed in a car-truck collision on highway 20 just inside the west city limits of Waterloo, Iowa, Monday.

The livestock truck struck the car broadside, hurled it into a ditch and then smashed down on top of it.

Killed were Everett Gerald Horner, 65; his wife, Mildred Bernice, 64, of Des Moines; their daughter, Marilyn Kendall, about 32; their son-in-law, William E. Kendall, 32, of Des Moines, Colo.; and two of the Kendall children, William, 9, and Sarah, 9 months.

Another Kendall child, James, 5, was reported in critical condition at a hospital. He suffered severe head injuries.

The truck driver, Lester Stafford, 59, Versailles, Mo., was not injured seriously. He told Police Capt. John Boots, the Horner car swerved onto the snow-covered shoulder of the roadway, then "skidded broadside in front of the truck."

With Rusk, Bundy

LBJ Goes Over World Problems

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson meets today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Presidential Assistant McGeorge Bundy to review world developments.

The three also were to discuss the State Department's budget for the next fiscal year and go over personnel matters.

Rusk and Bundy, presidential assistant for national security affairs, were to fly to the President's ranch from Washington during the morning.

George McGhee, U.S. ambassador to Bonn, who is home for consultation, will fly to the ranch Wednesday to review developments in West Germany.

Johnson's statement that he would review with Rusk and Bundy "ambassadors throughout the world" appeared to be in line with reports he plans shifts in 15 to 20 ambassadorships. Official sources in Washington

Talent Hunt For Cabinet Members On

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson had a lot of officials and their wives sitting on the edge of their chairs today — some with a sense of foreboding, some in hopeful expectation.

Much excitement was aroused by word that the President plans a shakeup in his "little Cabinet," that he will make many new appointments to such posts as undersecretary, assistant secretary and other administrators.

The President has ordered a "talent hunt." He wants, so far as possible, to recruit his new administrators from men and women already in the government.

So the question arose: Who will get the ax and who will be promoted to jobs paying as high as $30,000 a year?

It is one of the hardest secrets to crack, because the President is playing his cards so close to his chest.

Johnson dipped into government ranks in making two of his most recent appointments. Saturday he named William J. Driver to head the Veterans Administration. Monday night he selected Sheldon S. Cohen to be collector of internal revenue.

Driver, who had been deputy VA administrator, succeeds John S. Gleason Jr., who resigned. Cohen, chief counsel of the IRS, succeeds acting Commissioner Bertrand Harding, who had been serving since Mortimer Caplin resigned last July.

Gunmen Get $229,130 In Tax Money

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Two gunmen strolled into the city treasurer's office today, slugged the treasurer and escaped with $229,130 in tax-collection money of which $16,245 was in cash.

The robbery was the nation's second major one in two days. Three robbers fled Monday with an estimated $223,000 from two Brink's Inc. guards in Chicago.

A Brink's truck was to have picked up the Buffalo money half an hour after the gunmen, described as white and in their 30s, entered the office of City Treasurer Melvin W. Elliott at about 9:30 a.m.

Mae D. Wicks, chief teller and a city employee for 28 years, said one walked to her cage, pointed a revolver at her and said: "This is no bull, I want the bag."

She was putting $282,885 in checks, written to the city treasurer and not negotiable, and the cash into a bag.

"I just dropped under the counter and pushed the alarm, and I stayed there until the rest of the girls came to my cage."

Elliott walked up to the cage, unaware that the holdup was in progress.

Detailed Agency Figures Not Known At This Time

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Gov.-elect Warren E. Hearnes plans to ask the 1965 Legislature for appropriations totaling $808,448,399 to run the state government for one year.

Another $41,600,000 will be requested for capital improvements, making a grand total of $850,048,399.

Appropriations for the current two-year fiscal period ending next June 30 totaled over $1.5 billion.

Hearnes released his general budget figures at a news conference attended by John C. Vaughn, who will be the new comptroller and budget director. Vaughn has been working on them for weeks.

Detailed agency figures will not be known until Hearnes submits his budget message to the legislature—probably Jan. 18.

Vaughn said state agencies requested $300 million more than they got for the present biennium. But these requests were trimmed by about $100 million for the first year of operations.

Included in the overall total is $324,884,999 from general revenue (taxes), $236,558,793 from funds and $245,004,607 from federal funds.

The budget takes into account the transfer of more than $119 million to finance the foundation program of state aid for schools.

Here are the governor-elect's general recommendations on a functional basis, not broken down by agencies or institutions:

(General revenue figure first, state funds second and federal funds third.)

Elective officers, judiciary and General Assembly $7,794,352 and $2,109,676.

Public safety and defense $1,975,829, $8,056,478 and $71,981.

Department of Revenue $6,003,118 and $16,042,935.

Viets Aim At Ending Deadlock With US

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Lt. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, Viet Nam's military commander, and his general staff flew to the seaside resort of Cap St. Jacques today for conferences apparently aimed at ending the deadlock with the United States.

The United States has de-escalating back an estimated $600 million offer of expanded aid for Viet Nam since Khanh and his generals ousted the civilian High National Council on Dec. 20 and arrested a number of political leaders.

Rescue More Hostages In Congo Fight

Reports of Some Hostages Slain Christmas Day

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—White mercenaries and Congolese troops today captured Wamba and rescued more than 120 white hostages. But they reported about 10 white hostages were slaughtered by Congolese rebels and parts of their flesh eaten during Christmas.

The mercenaries seized Wamba two hours after dawn this morning following a drive of more than 250 miles northeast from Stanleyville, former capital of the Communist-backed rebel Congolese People's Republic.

The column radioed back that between 120 and 150 European hostages of the rebels had been found alive. But the mercenaries said that they had discovered the rebels had butchered several whites on Christmas Day.

About 10 had been killed and parts of their flesh eaten in an act of ritual cannibalism, the radio message said.

The radio message gave few details. It did not say whether the rescue column had encountered any rebel resistance at Wamba or whether it had suffered any casualties. Reports from Stanleyville said about 70 mercenaries and a force of Congolese soldiers had taken part in the operation.

U.S. officials said it was hoped to bring the rescued hostages to safety by Wednesday. The officials said they thought the hostages would be flown to Leopoldville in U.S. Air Force planes.

Double Death Said Suicide And Murder

A man and his wife were shot to death about 1:15 p. m. Monday on a gravel road about 500 feet from their farm in what Morgan County Coroner James R. Scrivner indicated was a murder and suicide. They were identified as Alvie O. Cooper, 51, Route 1, Syracuse, and his wife of five weeks, Ocie Odessa Cooper, 50.

The couple resided at the farm home about five and one-half miles southwest of Syracuse on a gravel road off of Morgan County Route D.

According to Coroner Scrivner and Morgan County Sheriff J. T. Hull, Nancy, 10-year-old daughter of Mrs. Cooper by a previous marriage, was behind her mother and stepfather when the shooting occurred. She was the only witness to the shooting, and she ran for more than a mile to a neighbor's home to tell them what had occurred. They, in turn notified the State Highway Patrol, Sheriff Hull and Coroner Scrivner at Versailles.

Coroner Scrivner said the blast from the gun struck Mrs. Cooper behind the left ear, and that Cooper had shot himself behind the right ear. He apparently made no threat toward the child.

The girl told authorities that her mother and stepfather had an argument. The stepfather left the house, went to a store to buy liquor and returned to the home, she said.

On Cooper's return to the house, the mother told her husband she was going to leave. He then said: "Let's go rabbit hunting" and picked up his .410 shotgun.

As the couple walked down the road the little girl said she followed them and saw her stepfather slow down and then point

Happy New Year Through the Years

George Cruikshank's "New Year's Eve" depicts the old year 1837 departing on the right and the youthful 1838 entering on the left.

And over and over again—as it was here in 1939—there are the funny hats, noisemakers and the flowing bowl. So again... HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Someone was always being swept up by a publicity stunt, like this one on aquaplanes at Venice, Calif., in 1937.

There was usually a picture in the papers featuring a poorly executed prop and that year's edition of a pretty girl.

Audrain Judge Dies

MEXICO, Mo. (AP)—Ralph Cornett, 58, probate judge of Audrain County 25 years, died Monday night after a long illness.

First elected probate judge in 1939, Cornett also became ex-officio magistrate judge when the post was created by the state Constitution of 1945.

Laymen were eligible for the probate judge post when he took office and he was one of the few remaining non-lawyer judges in the state. The 1945 Constitution requires magistrates to be lawyers.

Judge Cornett leaves his widow and three daughters, all of the home.

Knob Noster Community and Industrial Development Corporation plans to construct a building for the factory on its industrial site located on Highway 50. Plans call for a 20,000 square foot building on eight acres of land. Phillips will move his operation into the building when it is completed.

The development corporation board is working on a financing and funds project. Quentin Briggs, president, points out to residents of Knob Noster that shares in the corporation are still available and can be secured by contacting him or any other board member.

He was taken to Bothwell Hospital where Dr. D. K. Kirby rendered medical attention. The bullet, a .22 caliber, struck the fourth toe on the foot and clipped the end of the little toe.

After treatment he was released from the hospital.

Two vehicles were damaged in an accident at Broadway and Harrison at 5:16 p. m. Monday.

A 1962 Ford pick-up driven west on Broadway and slowing to a stop by W. H. Dieckman, 41, Route 3, was in collision with a 1956 Ford driven west on Broadway by Shirley Taber, 21, LaMonte.

Damaged were the grille and bumper guard of the Taber car and a small spot on the rear end and right rear fender of the Dieckman truck.

Two cars collided on Highway 50 eight-tenths of a mile east of Route 0 at 6:55 a. m. Monday. No injuries were reported by the State Highway Patrol.

Involved, the patrol said, were an eastbound 1950 Buick, driven by Gary Tickameyer, 16, Route 2, Sedalia, and a 1953 Chevrolet, also eastbound, driven by Leonard Woolery, 47, Smithton. The mishap occurred as the Tickameyer auto was making a left turn and was struck in the rear by the Woolery vehicle.

A car struck the rear of a farm tractor 1 1/2 miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65 at 3:45 p. m. Monday. There were no injuries reported.

The State Highway Patrol said the mishap occurred as a 1964 Chevrolet sedan, being driven north by John Villareal, 29, of Whiteman AFB, was passing a long string of traffic. The car hit the rear of a 1959 Ford farm tractor, also northbound, driven by Aileen Brauer, 38, Route 1, Sedalia, as the tractor was making a left turn.

Police Reports

Police questioned one youth and in turn learned of another juvenile, who is reportedly out of state, in connection with a series of three break-ins in Sedalia Monday.

Police said the one youth admitted entering the Co-Op Oil Company, Main and Washington, on Sept. 3, the Quik-Chek Market on Oct. 15, and the Looney - Bloss Lumber Company on Oct. 15.

Nothing was taken from the lumber company, according to police, while about $70 and several cartons of cigarettes were taken from the grocery store and an amount of money was taken from the Co-Op firm.

Police Sgt. Perry Franklin, who brought the boy in for questioning, said he also admitted a recent break-in at Tom's Record Room, Fifth and Ohio.

Franklin pointed out the youth was 16 and a juvenile at the time of the break-ins, although he has since reached his 17th birthday. The boy, however, will receive full protection of the Missouri juvenile law. He was turned over to Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn and his case will be handled in Juvenile Court where the records are closed.

Police are continuing their investigation regarding the other youth implicated.

John Petree, 1800 South Kentucky, reported the theft last Monday night of a number of items of clothing from a dryer at the coin laundry at 15th and Ohio.

Petree told police he left the laundry for a short time and the clothes were gone when he returned. Missing were infant and children's clothing, including blankets, diapers, nightgowns, tee shirts and jeans.

Bandits Take $3,000 From Credit Union

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three gunmen held up the credit union office at the Veterans Administration Hospital holding three employees and about 10 customers at bay while they emptied the cash drawer.

Miss Elizabeth Frederick, supervisor of the branch office of the credit union, said it had not been determined how much money was taken.

She said one bandit accosted her at her desk and told her: "Get out of there, and shut up or I'll kill you."

She said one bandit held a gun on another cashier and the third drew a gun on a nurse, who had tried to slip away from the office while the holdup was in progress.

The hospital is at 4801 Linwood. The credit union there is a branch of the federal employees credit union which has offices downtown.

Riley State Bank Held Up Tuesday

RILEY, Kan. (AP)—Three men held up the Riley State Bank today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

Harold Holmes, cashier, said the men entered the bank about 10 minutes before 10 a. m. and forced bank employees and customers to line up on one side of the building.

The robbers scooped up available money, herded the employees and customers into the bank vault and closed the door, Holmes said.

He said a safety latch installed in the vault enabled them to free themselves.

The robbers made a getaway in a car believed to have been stolen at St. Marys, Kan.

Holmes said the bank's books were being checked in an effort to determine the amount of the loss.

Bank of Steedman Is Robbed In Night

STEEDMAN, Mo. (AP)—Burglars entered the Bank of Steedman during the night and got away with an unknown amount of money, the Highway Patrol reported today.

The patrol said bank employees noted the door had been broken open and immediately notified officers.

The patrol said so far as is known, the burglars got less than $50 in cash and were unable to break into the safe.

The money was taken from the walk-in vault at the bank. The burglars opened nine safe deposit boxes, four of which were empty, according to Deputy Sheriff Paul S. Hilt. It has not been determined what was taken from the other boxes.

Attempts to open the bank's safe, where most of the cash is kept failed. The combination lock had been knocked off, however.

An inventory of the guards' calls has been completed.

Here is the account of the holdup told by police and church officials:

The armored truck usually gets to the Divine Savior church on Monday's between 5:45 and 6:30 p. m. It arrived about 2 minutes after 6 p. m.

Guard Robert Johnston, 38, of suburban Alsip entered the rectory and noticed the Rev. Walter Morris, 38, pastor of the church, sitting tied in a chair. Johnston was immediately hit from behind by one of the gunmen.

The Rev. Richard Burke, 31, had walked into the room just before the Brink's guard arrived and after the three masked men had tied Father Morris to a chair with surgical tape and gagged him.

Father Burke was knocked to the floor by one gunman and bound with tape.

After the guard was hit, he was tied to Father Burke with tape.

The three masked men, one of them reported as very nervous, then went into action. One robber put on Johnston's Brink's uniform and went outside. He gained admittance to the armored truck and slugged the driver, Bernard Gendek, 27.

The other two men, who had rifled the rectory safe of about $200, ran outside and drove in a car behind the truck to a cemetery near the church.

The men quickly loaded the money into their car, handcuffed Gendek to the cemetery fence and fled.

Heinz Beer, an ambulance driver for the Norridge fire department, had gone to the rectory to see Father Burke. He heard muffled sounds and found the two priests and the guard. Father Burke had managed to

Two Escapees Captured By Tipton Marshal

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Four youthful inmates broke out of Cole County jail early today by overpowering the guard but three were captured within hours.

Deputy Sheriff Stanley Diemler said someone started beating on the wall of the holdover cell — tank — about 1:30 a. m. Diemler went inside to see what the commotion was about.

He said one of the 10 men in the tank was bleeding about the mouth and seemed groggy. Diemler assumed the youth had been beaten by other prisoners and got him out of the cell.

The man jumped him and thrust a home-made knife in his ribs. Diemler said fortunately the blade bent as he scuffled with the prisoner. The other three got out of the tank and ran outside.

One, Stanley Steinmetz, was captured near the Missouri River bridge.

Two more were captured in a stolen truck by the Tipton night marshal, Toby Lademann. They were identified as John Bias and Roger Vaught.

Delbert Crony was still loose but had been traced as far as Tipton where authorities believe he stole a second truck.

All four were 20 or 21 years old and were being held on burglary charges.

Tells Rotary Of Teaching In Alaska

Miss Rita Napier, graduate of Smith-Cotton High School and Texas Women's University, told of her experiences as a school teacher in Hoonah, Alaska, a village of 650 located on the coast of an island just west of Juneau, before the members of the Sedalia Rotary Club Monday noon at Hotel Bothwell.

Miss Napier taught high school geography, history, English and physical education during her first year of her two year stay and added a home economics class to her teaching the second year. The population of Hoonah, according to Miss Napier, is primarily of members of the Tlingit Indian tribe, and life in the village was rather primitive, with the natives living off of the land. A crab meat cannery is the only organized industry in the town.

Congo Sect's View of Judgment Day

EDITOR'S NOTE — With virtually no preparation, the Congo was catapulted into independence four years ago. The results have been sometimes comic, often disastrous. An AP correspondent, who visited the Congo before independence and now four years later, describes the nation's efforts at survival. Second of three articles.

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Like so much else in the Congo, there is a primitive religious sect in the east which invites both smiles and tears.

It is called the Kitawala sect, whose idea of the Genesis goes something like this:

In the beginning, God had three sons and a daughter. They were all colorless until God grew bored with this. So he gave the sons the colors of the rainbow to choose from.

The eldest chose to be white and was given a rifle and went to live in Europe. The second son became tan — Arab — and went to live in Zanzibar with a muzzle-loading gun not as good as the rifle. There was nothing left for the third son and he became black and went to live in the Congo armed only with a bow and arrow.

This son became God's favorite and was given the daughter in marriage and they had many children, one of whom was called America. America was carried off into slavery by the son in Europe to a distant land where he invented the automobile, the refrigerator and the transistor radio.

On Judgement Day, America will return to the Congo and give all the descendants of his parents automobiles, refrigerators, radios and all the other good things he invented.

Judgment Day still eludes the Congo, which like many places in Africa has been treated cruelly by history. For centuries it was allowed to sleep until the white man came and grew rich here and then, after 80 years, the Congo suddenly became independent and found itself rushing into the 20th century with scarcely enough preparation for the 16th.

Thus, the average black man, poorer now after four years of disillusioning independence, still walks while the white man rides, still lives in a shack of mud hut while the white man enjoys a big house. The black man has been known to approach whites and ask for their "intelligence pills" as the only sure key to the white world. The Belgians gave many Congolese the equivalent of a fifth-grade education and they fed and paid them better than most Africans under colonial rule. But unlike the British and the French, the Belgians gave their rich colony no preparation for independence. When it came suddenly 4 years ago, there was not a single Congolese college graduate, not one doctor or lawyer or engineer or military officer or man with any government training higher than that of a postal clerk.

Now, there is a handful of graduates in these fields in a country with a population of 15 million and a size 80 times the area of Belgium. It is nowhere near enough. And so, four years after independence, the Congo has no sense of being a nation, no central government or army which can function without foreign help. And it is still plagued by the feuds and dialects of more than 200 tribes with the result that on one 300-mile stretch of railroad, the train crews must be changed seven times. Crews from alien tribes would be slaughtered.

For the average Congolese, four years of independence have meant almost four years of bloody genocide in wars of secession and rebellion, riotous graft and ineptitude in government, fewer jobs, fewer medical facilities, fewer goods and galloping inflation.

The rich copper mines, the palm oil, rubber and coffee plantations still are owned by the Belgians and other Europeans. Most of the stores and small businesses are still owned by Greeks, Indians and Portuguese. Most of the Congo's white population has fled but those still here because of the profits continue to do well financially.

Among black men, only the 50,000 Congolese who have replaced the Belgians in government jobs are doing better economically. But the black bureaucrat is still largely untrained with the result that the government of the Congo, by Western standards, is often government by slapstick.

Like many Africans, the Congolese politician has a passion for argument but not decision. Thus, the Parliament argued for four years about a flag and motto. They finally got the flag design only because President Joseph Kasavubu lost his patience and arbitrarily decided on one. There still is no motto.

Graft in the Congo has a quaint simplicity. A customs inspector simply holds your bag until you bribe him. A city policeman courteously salutes and shakes your hand before he shakes you down for a real or imagined traffic violation.

Last spring, the cabinet of the province that includes Stanleyville casually voted itself and drew two years "severance pay," about $126,000 — while still in office. Before that, they had pocketed a reported $360,000 intended for police and teachers who went unpaid. The cabinet was only recently fired.

Many teachers throughout the Congo went without salary for two years until they finally went on strike. The central government had sent the money but it never reached them. Estimates of that latency ranged from $40 million to $50 million.

Western diplomats estimate the strength of the Congolese army at roughly 30,000. The estimate is very rough because local garrisons frequently exist on paper while their commander pockets the payroll.

And now, along with the bitter confused fruits of independence, the bloody rebellions and secessions, the chaos and graft of government, a new element has appeared in the Congo. It is the cold war. The United States supports the Moise Tshombe government as the only one available with a chance of governing. America sends about $50 million in aid a year, mostly in agricultural surplus.

The Red Chinese are evidently here, too. Their guns and propaganda have shown up among the rebels. If they increase their aid, the United States may be forced to increase its involvement. And the poor bewildered natives in the Kitawala sect may be obliged to rewrite their pathetic history of the world to include the name of a place they never heard of. It is called Viet Nam.

Jenson New Manager For Steam-O-Matic

Reflecting accelerated sales growth and full use of expanded production facilities, I. H. Miller, president of Rival Manufacturing Co., Kansas City today announced the appointment of Paul D. Jensen as General Manager of The Steam-O-Matic Division of Rival Mfg. Co., Sedalia.

Jensen, replaces F. Stayton Marsh who recently resigned.

Mr. Miller also announced the appointment of Peter Yeary as Manager of Plastic Molding.

Last April, Rival completed a 45,600 square foot addition to its manufacturing and home office facility in Kansas City. The new building is now utilized to full capacity in the manufacture of a growing line of housewares, including new electric can openers, electric knives, and food blenders. The Sedalia plant, at 16th and Lamine, is likewise being geared for maximum production.

Jensen has had extensive management and engineering experience with leading American and Canadian appliance manufacturers.

He was born in Rodkoberg, Denmark, and received his degree in mechanical engineering from the Odesse Technical Institute.

He moved to Sedalia from Wethersfield, Conn.

Jensen and his wife, Iris, have three children and live at 2609 Anderson Avenue.

Yeary has a wide engineering background with extensive experience in plastics and injection molding.

A native Texan, he is moving to Sedalia from Fort Worth.

Yeary and his wife, Maxine, have three children.

Shoe Factory Opened In Knob By L. Phillips

Leland Phillips of Sedalia is opening a shoe factory in Knob Noster. Production will start Jan. 7.

For the present the factory and offices of the new enterprise, Pamco Shoe Company, will be located at 309 East Lucas Street in Knob Noster. The buildings are being remodeled and machinery installed.

Phillips stated he will employ at least 30 workers. Plans call for a steady increase in production in the near future with a substantial increase in employees.

Phillips has had 18 years' experience in shoe production, and was with the Town and Country Shoe Company in Sedalia.

Knob Noster Community and Industrial Development Corporation plans to construct a building for the factory on its industrial site located on Highway 50. Plans call for a 20,000 square foot building on eight acres of land. Phillips will move his operation into the building when it is completed.

The development corporation board is working on a financing and funds project. Quentin Briggs, president, points out to residents of Knob Noster that shares in the corporation are still available and can be secured by contacting him or any other board member.

After treatment he was released from the hospital.

Two vehicles were damaged in an accident at Broadway and Harrison at 5:16 p. m. Monday.

A 1962 Ford pickup driven west on Broadway and slowing to a stop by W. H. Dieckman, 41, Route 3, was in collision with a 1956 Ford driven west on Broadway by Shirley Taber, 21, LaMonte.

Damaged were the grille and bumper guard of the Taber car and a small spot on the rear end and right rear fende of the Dieckman truck.

Two cars collided on Highway 50 eight-tenths of a mile east of Route 0 at 6:55 a. m. Monday. No injuries were reported by the State Highway Patrol.

Involved, the patrol said, were an eastbound 1950 Buick, driven by Gary Tickameyer, 16, Route 2, Sedalia, and a 1953 Chevrolet, also eastbound, driven by Leonard Woolery, 47, Smithton. The mishap occurred as the Tickameyer auto was making a left turn and was struck in the rear by the Woolery vehicle.

A car struck the rear of a farm tractor 1½ miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65 at 3:45 p. m. Monday. There were no injuries reported.

The State Highway Patrol said the mishap occurred as a 1964 Chevrolet sedan, being driven north by John Villareal, 29, of Whiteman AFB, was passing a long string of traffic. The car hit the rear of a 1959 Ford farm tractor, also northbound, driven by Aileen Brauer, 38, Route 1, Sedalia, as the tractor was making a left turn.

Police questioned one youth and in turn learned of another juvenile, who is reportedly out of state, in connection with a series of three break-ins in Sedalia Monday.

Police said the one youth admitted entering the Co-Op Oil Company, Main and Washington, on Sept. 3, the Quik-Chek Market on Oct. 15, and the Looney - Blossom Lumber Company on Oct. 15.

Nothing was taken from the lumber company, according to police, while about $70 and several cartons of cigarettes were taken from the grocery store and an amount of money was taken from the Co-Op firm.

Police Sgt. Perry Franklin, who brought the boy in for questioning, said he also admitted a recent break-in at Tom's Record Room, Fifth and Ohio.

Franklin pointed out the youth was 16 and a juvenile at the time of the break-ins, although he has since reached his 17th birthday. The boy, however, will receive full protection of the Missouri juvenile law. He was turned over to Juvenile Officer Cecil Glenn and his case will be handled in Juvenile Court where the records are closed.

Police are continuing their investigation regarding the other youth implicated.

John Petree, 1800 South Kentucky, reported the theft late Monday night of a number of items of clothing from a dryer at the coin laundry at 15th and Ohio.

In addition to studies in various colleges and art schools, Miss Fults, took instruction in L'Ecole des Beaux Arts, in Fontainebleau, France. She is listed in Who's Who in Wisconsin. During World War II, Miss Fults was an exchange art teacher in an English girls' school.

Bandits Take $3,000 From Credit Union

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three gunmen held up the credit union office at the Veterans Administration Hospital holding three employees and about 10 customers at bay while they emptied the cash drawer.

Miss Elizabeth Frederick, supervisor of the branch office of the credit union, said it had not been determined how much money was taken.

She said one bandit accosted her at her desk and told her: "Get out of there, and shut up or I'll kill you."

She said one bandit held a gun on another cashier and the third drew a gun on a nurse, who had tried to slip away from the office while the holdup was in progress.

The hospital is at 4801 Linwood. The credit union there is a branch of the federal employees credit union which has offices downtown.

Harold Holmes, cashier, said the men entered the bank about 10 minutes before 10 a. m. and forced bank employees and customers to line up on one side of the building.

The robbers scooped up available money, herded the employees and customers into the bank vault and closed the door, Holmes said.

He said a safety latch installed in the vault enabled them to free themselves.

The robbers made a getaway in a car believed to have been stolen at St. Marys, Kan.

Holmes said the bank's books were being checked in an effort to determine the amount of the loss.

STEEDMAN, Mo. (AP) — Burglars entered the Bank of Steedman during the night and got away with an unknown amount of money, the Highway Patrol reported today.

The patrol said bank employees noted the door had been broken open and immediately notified officers.

The patrol said so far as is known, the burglars got less than $50 in cash and were unable to break into the safe.

The money was taken from the walk-in vault at the bank. The burglars opened nine safe deposit boxes, four of which were empty, according to Deputy Sheriff Paul S. Hilt. It has not been determined what was taken from the other boxes.

Attempts to open the bank's safe, where most of the cash is kept failed. The combination lock had been knocked off, however.

Here is the account of the holdup told by police and church officials:

The armored truck usually gets to the Divine Savior church on Monday's between 5:45 and 6:30 p. m. It arrived about 2 minutes after 6 p. m.

Guard Robert Johnston, 38, of suburban Alsip entered the rectory and noticed the Rev. Walter Morris, 38, pastor of the church, sitting tied in a chair. Johnston was immediately hit from behind by one of the gunmen.

The Rev. Richard Burke, 31, had walked into the room just before the Brink's guard arrived and after the three masked men had tied Father Morris to a chair with surgical tape and gagged him.

Father Burke was knocked to the floor by one gunman and bound with tape.

After the guard was hit, he was tied to Father Burke with tape.

The three masked men, one of them reported as very nervous, then went into action. One robber put on Johnston's Brink's uniform and went outside. He gained admittance to the armored truck and slugged the driver, Bernard Gendek, 27.

The other two men, who had rifled the rectory safe of about $200, ran outside and drove in a car behind the truck to a cemetery near the church.

The men quickly loaded the money into their car, handcuffed Gendek to the cemetery fence and fled.

Heinz Beer, an ambulance driver for the Norridge fire department, had gone to the rectory to see Father Burke. He heard muffled sounds and found the two priests and the guard. Father Burke had managed to

Two Escapees Captured By Tipton Marshal

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Four youthful inmates broke out of Cole County jail early today by overpowering the guard but three were captured within hours.

Deputy Sheriff Stanley Diemler said someone started beating on the wall of the holdover cell — tank — about 1:30 a. m. Diemler went inside to see what the commotion was about.

He said one of the 10 men in the tank was bleeding about the mouth and seemed groggy. Diemler assumed the youth had been beaten by other prisoners and got him out of the cell.

The man jumped him and thrust a home-made knife in his ribs. Diemler said fortunately the blade bent as he scuffled with the prisoner. The other three got out of the tank and ran outside.

One, Stanley Steinmetz, was captured near the Missouri River bridge.

Two more were captured in a stolen truck by the Tipton night marshal, Toby Lademann. They were identified as John Bias and Roger Vaugt.

Delbert Crony was still loose but had been traced as far as Tipton where authorities believe he stole a second truck.

All four were 20 or 21 years old and were being held on burglary charges.

RILEY, Kan. (AP) — Three men held up the Riley State Bank today and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

Congo Sect's View of Judgment Day

EDITOR'S NOTE — With virtually no preparation, the Congo was catapulted into independence four years ago. The results have been sometimes comic, often disastrous. An AP correspondent, who visited the Congo before independence and now four years later, describes the nation's efforts at survival. Second of three articles.

By SAUL PETT
AP Special Correspondent

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — Like so much else in the Congo, there is a primitive religious sect in the east which invites both smiles and tears.

It is called the Kitawala sect, whose idea of the Genesis goes something like this:

In the beginning, God had three sons and a daughter. They were all colorless until God grew bored with this. So he gave the sons the colors of the rainbow to choose from.

The eldest chose to be white and was given a rifle and went to live in Europe. The second son became tan — Arab — and went to live in Zanzibar with a muzzle-loading gun not as good as the rifle. There was nothing left for the third son and he became black and went to live in the Congo armed only with a bow and arrow.

This son became God's favorite and was given the daughter in marriage and they had many children, one of whom was called America. America was carried off into slavery by the son in Europe to a distant land where he invented the automobile, the refrigerator and the transistor radio.

On Judgement Day, America will return to the Congo and give all the descendants of his parents automobiles, refrigerators, radios and all the other good things he invented.

Judgment Day still eludes the Congo, which like many places in Africa has been treated cruelly by history. For centuries it was allowed to sleep until the white man came and grew rich here and then, after 80 years, the Congo suddenly became independent and found itself rushing into the 20th century with scarcely enough preparation for the 16th.

Thus, the average black man, poorer now after four years of disillusioning independence, still walks while the white man rides, still lives in a shack of mud hut while the white man enjoys a big house. The black man has been known to approach whites and ask for their "intelligence pills" as the only sure key to the white world.

The Belgians gave many Congolese the equivalent of a fifth-grade education and they fed and paid them better than most Africans under colonial rule. But unlike the British and the French, the Belgians gave their rich colony no preparation for independence. When it came suddenly 4 years ago, there was not a single Congolese college graduate, not one doctor or lawyer or engineer or military officer or man with any government training higher than that of a postal clerk.

Now, there is a handful of graduates in these fields in a country with a population of 15 million and a size 80 times the area of Belgium. It is nowhere near enough. And so, four years after independence, the Congo has no sense of being a nation, no central government or army which can function without foreign help. And it is still plagued by the feuds and dialects of more than 200 tribes with the result that on one 300-mile stretch of railroad, the train crews must be changed seven times. Crews from alien tribes would be slaughtered.

For the average Congolese, four years of independence have meant almost four years of bloody genocide in wars of secession and rebellion, riotous graft and ineptitude in government, fewer jobs, fewer medical facilities, fewer goods and galloping inflation.

The rich copper mines, the palm oil, rubber and coffee plantations still are owned by the Belgians and other Europeans.

Most of the stores and small businesses are still owned by Greeks, Indians and Portuguese. Most of the Congo's white population has fled but those still here because of the profits continue to do well financially.

Among black men, only the 50,000 Congolese who have replaced the Belgians in government jobs are doing better economically. But the black bureaucrat is still largely untrained with the result that the government of the Congo, by Western standards, is often government by slapstick.

Like many Africans, the Congolese politician has a passion for argument but not decision. Thus, the Parliament argued for four years about a flag and motto. They finally got the flag design only because President Joseph Kasavubu lost his patience and arbitrarily decided on one. There still is no motto.

Graft in the Congo has a quaint simplicity. A customs inspector simply holds your bag until you bribe him. A city policeman courteously salutes and shakes your hand before he shakes you down for a real or imagined traffic violation.

Last spring, the cabinet of the province that includes Stanleyville casually voted itself and drew two years "severance pay," about $126,000 — while still in office. Before that, they had pocketed a reported $360,000 intended for police and teachers who went unpaid. The cabinet was only recently fired.

Many teachers throughout the Congo went without salary for two years until they finally went on strike. The central government had sent the money but it never reached them. Estimates of that larceny ranged from $40 million to $50 million.

Western diplomats estimate the strength of the Congolese army at roughly 30,000. The estimate is very rough because local garrisons frequently exist on paper while their commanders pocket the payroll.

And now, along with the bitter confused fruits of independence, the bloody rebellions and secessions, the chaos and graft of government, a new element has appeared in the Congo. It is the cold war.

The United States supports the Moise Tshombe government as the only one available with a chance of governing. America sends about $50 million in aid a year, mostly in agricultural surplus.

The Red Chinese are evidently here, too. Their guns and propaganda have shown up among the rebels. If they increase their aid, the United States may be forced to increase its involvement. And the poor bewildered natives in the Kitawala sect may be obliged to rewrite their pathetic history of the world to include the name of a place they never heard of. It is called Viet Nam.

Period Between Christmas,
New Year's a Dreary Time

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Every year has a lost week. This is it — "The season of the great letdown." It is doubtful that an examination of American history would disclose any great inventions were conceived, any great poems written, any inspiring songs created between Christmas and New Year's Day. It is not a week for doing great things; it is a week for hanging on — and hoping for better days.

Priest Going Into Exile
As Protest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest says he is going into "self-imposed exile" from the Los Angeles archdiocese "as the strongest protest I can make" because he was ordered to maintain a silence on racism.

The Rev. John V. Coffield, 49, called his departure "a solution to an impasse between my cardinal (James Francis Cardinal McIntyre) and myself."

The cardinal was not available for comment. Father Coffield said in a farewell statement to his parishioners that he was ordered to take a five-month "enforced vacation" from California earlier this year because he had spoken out against controversial Proposition 13.

The proposition, upheld by voters last November, amended the state constitution to prohibit any abridgement of an individual's choice to whom he might sell or rent a home or apartment. In effect, it nullified state antidiscrimination housing laws. "Scarcely anyone knew of the shocking way I was ordered out of California after I had spoken out against Proposition 13," Father Coffield said in his statement.

"I was ordered out on June 22nd and was not allowed back until November 15th," he said. "I was hopeful that silent acceptance of the injustice to me and my parishioners would help defeat the proposition. I was wrong. I should have fought it openly."

"I want to have no part in the continuing silence and lack of repentance which is daily driving away many excellent people."

On Saturday, Nov. 14th, I was ordered to maintain a silence on racism. I chose instead a self-imposed exile from the diocese as a gesture of protest against, and rather than be a part of, the continuing evil of silence.

"I also accept my exile as a solution to an impasse between my cardinal and myself."

Emil Seliga, a layman and spokesman for the priest, said the priest would go to Chicago for a period of three to six years to do missionary work, particularly among Latin Americans.

Father Coffield, a priest in Los Angeles since his ordination 24 years ago, has been pastor of the Ascension Catholic church for three years.

Seliga said that during the "enforced vacation" referred to by Father Coffield, the priest took courses toward a doctorate at the University of Arizona and worked with Roman Catholic agencies in Chicago.

The principal organization with which he will work in Chicago will be the Inter-American Cooperative Institute, Seliga said. The priest's leave officialy begins Jan. 1, he added.

"A Buddhist monk could use self-crimination as the strongest form of protest," the priest said. "It isn't open to me."

"I deeply love the Church that is trying to silence me," Father Coffield said. "I want to be obedient to her."

"The clear law of obedience is that we are not to obey when we are certain that to do so would be to sin, whether the command be given by mother or father, priest, bishop or cardinal. We can sin by silence as well as by action."

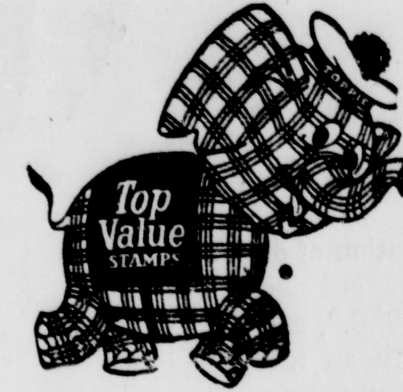

Father Coffield said he had sought guidance from priests, confessors, canon lawyers, bishops, archbishops "and even another cardinal." He did not identify them.

Dalton Plans
To Open Law
Office In JC

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. John M. Dalton announced today he plans to open a law office in Jefferson City after taking several weeks' vacation after his term ends Jan. 1.

He and Mrs. Dalton plan to go to Scottsdale, Ariz., for two or three weeks of rest. They plan to move back into their old home in Jefferson City this weekend, the governor said.

Ordinarily the honorary colonels give the retiring governor a gift. This time the Daltons told the colonels they did not want any personal gift, so an educational trust fund is being set up instead.

Trustees will be John English, former state Democratic chairman and Dalton's chief of staff, John Hall Dalton, of Kennett, the governor's son, and Harold Treasure of Kennett, chairman of the state Highway Department.

They are authorized to receive gifts of money and property for the tax exempt fund and disburse funds to Missouri colleges and universities.

The governor said he hoped the money would be used to provide scholarships in government and political science.

"I think nothing is more important to democracy's future," he said, "than the education and training of young people in the field of government."

English said no funds will be solicited but he will welcome voluntary contributions.

Discussing his plans, Dalton disclosed his files will be given to the Missouri Historical Society for the Western Historical Manuscripts Collection in the University of Missouri library.

Grow, Glow Club

Progressive Fete

Members of Grow and Glow Garden Club held their Christmas party Dec. 15, in Tipton. There were 23 members and three guests present. Mrs. Paul Gabert, Mrs. D. W. Fenton and Mrs. J. A. Stoller were hosts.

A tour of homes was taken, with the first stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Webster Thomas, where members and guests were presented Christmas cards by the hostesses and were served coffee and candy.

Mrs. Karl Herfurth conducted the business meeting and Mrs. James Briscoe read a Christmas story, "I Christ Had Not Come."

The next stop was at the Carl Herfurth home, where coffee and punch were served. Mrs. Graham showed a film on "Hymns of the Nativity," with members singing some of the songs.

The group then went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barker where Mrs. O. J. Stratman installed new officers. Mrs. Stratman used a Christmas arrangement of flowers and pine cones as a symbol of the installation.

Mrs. Herfurth was presented a past president's pin. The final stop was at the L. D. Schaffter home, where a gift exchange was held and refreshments of fancy cut Christmas sandwiches, cookies and cranberry tea were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Herfurth, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Briscoe, Mrs. Frank Lang and Mrs. Thomas.

Altrusa Club Stages
Annual Holiday Party

The Altrusa Club held its annual Christmas party Monday noon, Dec. 21, at the Bothwell Hotel at which time a luncheon was served to 19 members and two guests. Mrs. Claude Knight and Mrs. James Knight were hosts.

The members and guests were welcomed by Mrs. Mabel Chambers, president.

The music committee, composed of Mrs. Imogene Peoples, chairman, Miss Sue Heckart and Mrs. Lillian Maynard, was in charge of the program.

A gift exchange was held and each member was presented a red headed poinsettia by the president.

The 'Sacred Rust' of Years

"P.S.—The old automobiles parked on the streets and yards with wheels off and other things wrong sure helps the looks of Sedalia."

Thus comments an exponent of a beautification program for our community. A movement to correct this condition could be either voluntary or by benefit of police action to enforce an ordinance covering the same.

Of course we could dig big holes in the ground and stuff the old klunkers into them. One joker suggested the wrecks could be dumped into the holes in Sedalia's streets to help fill them, until we mentioned he was out of date with the idea because Mayor Studer had had the street department working this project for the past two years and there are few holes left to fill even though the city hasn't yet paid the bill for all of this.

What has been done so far is a credit to the city administration even though some of it is on tick temporarily until more tax money is available.

So, lacking a better solution of disposing of the old wrecks our lady friend referred to in her "P.S.", can't some genius come up with an idea. Otherwise, the Sedalia Beautiful program may perish for inattention and the streets become a junk yard of abandoned or neglected cars.

Nationally, it is reported, there are 8,000 auto junk yards — and what a sight they are on cross country trips as well as nearby. Furthermore there are about 5,000,000 old cars biting the rust each year.

A commentator notes that any society that can figure out a way to get rid of old razor blades by merely cutting a slot in the bathroom wall and letting the law of gravity take over, ought to have enough sheer genius to discover a better method of disposing of old cars than to let them rust to pieces on the city streets or in property owners' yards.

Indian's Adjustment

The churches of this country are helping American Indians to be absorbed as participating community citizens. In the last ten years over 75,000 Indians have left reservations to live in the nation's cities.

Problems of adjustment are plentiful. Accustomed to the restrictions and limitation of tribal life, the various Church Welcome centers help the migrants adjust to life away from the reservation, by finding housing, employment, welfare and other resources for the Indians.

The civil rights law must be interpreted and practiced for all Americans. The Board of National Missions is aiding in many ways to assist the Indians who wish to live, work and play away from the government reservations. Their talents are being recognized and their handicraft is exhibited and sold in many places throughout the country. But not all Indians make baskets, rugs, pottery or beaded souvenirs but are eager to improve themselves.

It is encouraging to learn that other opportunities are offered to our first citizens and that they are eager to become a part of our amalgamated community life.

Under God

The Supreme Court's refusal to strike the words "under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag should be hailed with praise and thanksgiving.

Two New York residents had challenged the constitutionality of including these words in the pledge. New York courts rejected their challenge. The Supreme Court upheld the rejection without opinion.

But a clue as to the Supreme Court's attitude in this case may be found in the opinion of Justice Brennan on the famous prayer case. He wrote then that the reference to God in the revised Pledge "may merely recognize the historical fact that our nation was believed to have been founded 'under God.'"

How reassuring it is to know that we can reaffirm publicly our faith in God, in words that mean so much to every loyal American: "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

and the parrot could tell what it's like out there?"

Come to think of it, a lot of congressmen might like to ask the same question when they're called upon to initial a few more billions for space.

Sea Level Canal Plan Is Realistic

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — President Johnson's announcement of plans to renegotiate the 1903 Panama Canal Treaty was timed hopefully to take the wind out of anti-Panama government, anti-U.S. riots being planned in Panama for early January.

There's now considerable feeling at the Pentagon and the State Department that it would be wise for the United States to make sizable concessions in these negotiations.

Numbers of military men and diplomats argue that the dispute with Panama could endanger the existence of a basically friendly Panamanian government. Worse yet, they claim, it's causing raised eyebrows throughout Latin America.

"We're caught in a box," says one military man. "We're so big and strong and Panama is so small and weak. The dispute therefore looks so lopsided that the Latins are siding with the Panamanians regardless of who's right or who's wrong. We're ending up looking like villains."

Back of this willingness to make concessions to Panama lies a hard chunk of reality. The new canal the United States is planning will be a sea level canal. It will require few operating and maintenance men and little policing. A canal zone won't be necessary for security. Further, the old canal and its zone will be obsolete.

Since there will be no locks in the new sea level canal, it will be difficult for Red agents to sabotage and equally difficult for Communist missiles to blast it out of action for more than a two-week stretch.

The present canal, by contrast, would be duck soup for agents. Homemade bombs could knock out its locks with ease. A nuclear missile could put the Panama Canal out of operation from four to seven years.

Economically, the Panama Canal is already outdated. Some of the new large commercial and naval vessels are too large to pass through the locks. Some ships are forced to wait in line for hours before they can even get into the canal. Once in, the 50-mile crossing is slow.

A sea level canal would have a heavy capacity and fast transit time. Operating costs would be low.

By negotiating with three countries for possible routes for the new canal, the President's men hope to get several Latin countries competing with each other for a chance at the waterway. The aim, of course, is to put the United States in a very favorable light — granting the canal as a favor rather than wresting it as a concession.

Why do the President's men think the Latin's will compete? Because whichever country gets the new canal will reap millions in indirect benefits, enough to give a hefty lift to the standard of living in a small country. Contrarywise, if Panama loses the canal, her economy will suffer a heavy blow.

New Approach to News Conference

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Constitution doesn't require presidents to hold news conferences but President Johnson, like his predecessors, is holding them. His are different from theirs.

No one can say his way isn't working out well for him. 13 months after he took office, since at this point it isn't clear why Johnson thinks it's necessary for him to be different.

But there's a pretty good explanation for why his way hasn't caused him trouble. He hardly ever says anything that would. Conflicts set up roadblocks and so far Johnson seems to be making a career of not creating them.

In this sense he is up till now the most noncontroversial president since Calvin Coolidge.

Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt, Harry S. Truman, Dwight D. Eisenhower and John F. Kennedy all held so-called formal news conferences. Eisenhower less often than the others.

The formal kind is announced long enough before time for all the newsmen in Washington to go, if they want to. There the president is wide open to any kind of question and his answers become a matter of record.

This serves the double purpose of letting the president get his ideas out to the public while letting the public get a close-up look at him.

Kennedy, the first to hold news sessions on live television, did a brilliant job. This helped build up the popularity of a man who had won the presidency by a hair in 1960.

Roosevelt thought he got as much good from the newsmen's questions as they did from his answers. He used to hold two conferences a week.

Johnson has almost entirely eliminated the formal kind of meeting with the press.

In Washington he usually, and suddenly, calls together the newsmen assigned to cover him and trots around the White House grounds with them, answering them as he goes.

The suddenness of this peripatetic conference leaves out scores of newsmen who would like to be present if they knew there was going to be a conference-on-the-trot. Their absence also limits the number of questions that are asked.

Or Johnson calls in reporters at the White House or his ranch, either individually or in selected groups or just those who happen to be around, and then talks to them in one of three ways.

1. On the record, meaning anything he says can be attributed to him.

2. Off the record, meaning nothing he says can be used.

3. Background, meaning what he says can be used so long as the reporters don't say he said it. This can have strange, almost weird results.

Instead of being able to say what they write came from Johnson himself, they say the President thinks or hopes this or agrees or disagrees with that. This makes them look like a bunch of mind readers.

Or, instead of using the device just mentioned, they can say the President is considering doing something, according to sources close to him.

If all this is baffling to newspaper readers, it's equally baffling to reporters who weren't at one of these background conferences and have to read about them later.

On Sunday he held a background and the Monday morning papers were full of what he said he had on his mind although the stories didn't say he said it. And Monday, perhaps for variety, he tried it a couple of ways.

Part of what he said could be attributed to him and part couldn't. It's unlikely this can go indefinitely without a big mixup some day.

The Mature Parent

Demand Decent Courtesy

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Should I give a present to a child who is very rude to me? I refer to my 11-year-old niece. I recently took an old family friend to her mother's house. My niece was asked what school subject she liked best. She replied "What's that to you?" My sister-in-law does nothing to control this rudeness. I don't want to complain to my brother, as he is not a well man.

ANSWER: Perhaps, next time this child is rude to you, you might say to her, "You are a little fool to talk to me like that because you like the presents I give you. If you want presents from me in the future, don't talk like that to me again."

Parents like your sister-in-law permit children's rudeness because they enjoy it, or else they would end it. They use the child's tongue to express their own aggressive feelings because they have to curb their own tongues.

They are very fond of justifying this abuse by the child by thinking of it as protection of his psychological health, his "honesty." This is slightly nutty, of course.

We do not protect a child's psychological health by permitting him to discharge aggressive feelings in scalding little spurts of insolence.

We protect it by demanding that he explode his steam in one big bang so that its pressure is reduced, and his tongue can come back under control.

We imperil — rather than protect — his psychological health by exposing him to the disgust he arouses in others by his rudeness.

None of us like to bypass parents' authority to deal with a child's rudeness.

But if they won't exert their authority and, like you, we feel obliged to maintain contact with them and the child, our only alternative to tolerating insolence is to stop it ourselves.

If you've been accustomed to giving your rude young niece presents on special occasions, she doesn't want to forfeit them. Use her desire to keep them coming by making it clear you'll stop their coming if she doesn't put a curb on her tongue.

Children are practical creatures. They stop giving contempt as soon as the price of it is firmly and amiably clear.

This is easy if we are able to forfeit romantic notions about winning a rude child's "love" and settle for decent courtesy from him.

Gird For Possible Slump In Confidence Next Year

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — This year has been so good that fears are felt in many quarters that next year may seem like a let-down because the public is inclined to expect too much of it.

The federal administration reportedly is getting plans ready for any such slump in confidence — plans to stimulate the economy with more tax cuts or greater spending if the pace falters when compared to this year's fast growth.

Almost all economists in and out of government agree, however, that the first few months of 1965 will be even more bountiful than the final ones of 1964.

They cite the special incidents that held back the economy in the autumn, particularly the auto strikes. And they cite special reasons the first few months of 1965 will be more active than they normally would — such as pent-up demand for autos due to the short supply in the closing weeks of 1964, and fear that labor trouble in steel could cut off metal shipments in May.

After that — there's the rub. And that's one reason economists are varying so widely just now in their predictions for 1965 as a whole.

Any letdown after these special stimulants are withdrawn might make both businessmen and consumers nervous. If the fast growth rate of the economy in 1964 — now put at around 7 per cent — slows down perceptibly in late spring, business could pull in its horns, consumers might worry and postpone some purchases.

There are other hazards that economists see ahead, without being sure that real cures are in sight.

The labor force will grow rapidly next year. Much of the growth will be from youths untrained for the jobs mechanized industry offers. The great hopes now being expressed, that the economy will grow fast enough to absorb all the newcomers seeking jobs, may be dashed. And the public is notorious for changing quickly from too much confidence to too much caution.

Inflation isn't a problem now and seems unlikely to be in the months just ahead. But beyond that a number of economists are far from reassured. They cite the recent scattered rises in some basic materials. They note that the auto labor contract and the one the steelworkers are expected to seek could push production costs up faster than factory efficiency is increasing. All this could lay the seeds for future inflation.

Other economists, especially those employed by the banks and other financial institutions see as far from allayed as yet the international financial problems which reached the crisis stage in November when the British pound was tottering. Measures that may still have to be taken to get the pound back on a sound basis, and to keep the dollar from catching the infection, are still uncertain. And drastic measures could upset the American economy as well as that of other non-Communist nations.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Some Foods, Nondigestion Cause Gas In Intestines

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Association

Q—I have a lot of gas in my intestines. What foods cause this condition?

A—Any food that contains sugar or starch will ferment and produce gas if it is not completely digested by the time it reaches the large intestine. This means that, if you hurry your food through your digestive tract with laxatives or too much roughage, it will not have time to digest completely and you will have gas.

There are, however, certain starchy foods that are made up of microscopic starch granules each of which is enclosed in a fibrous capsule. Starch in this form is more slowly digested than other forms. It is found in kidney beans, navy beans, lima beans, peas, potatoes, corn, lentils and rice. This does not apply, however, to processed corn starch or flour made from rice or potatoes.

Q—I have high blood pressure and fluid retention. Recently my doctor prescribed Hygroton. Could this be responsible for my unnatural tiredness? Is it habit forming?

A—Chlorthalidone (Hygroton) is a prolonged action diuretic that is widely used to help reduce the blood pressure. It is not habit forming, but it is obtainable only on a prescription. Too large a dose may cause fatigue, weakness, dizziness, nausea and headache. These disappear when the dosage is reduced. Prolonged use causes an imbalance in the body chemistry unless supplemental calcium and potassium are given. Persons with a tendency to gouty arthritis should not use this drug.

Q—Is histoplasmosis ever really cured? How does it act?

A—Histoplasmosis was once thought to be invariably fatal, but now we know that it can be cured if it is recognized early in its course and treated with the antibiotic, amphotericin B. It acts very much like tuberculosis and is caused by a fungus that is found in the soil—especially soil that has been contaminated with the droppings of chickens, pigeons and other birds.

Q—Our baby died at 13 months of malignant hepatoma. What is it and could it occur twice in the same family?

A—Malignant hepatoma is a type of cancer of the liver. Although the cause is not known, it is not a contagious or hereditary disease. It would be most unlikely that it would occur twice in the same family.

How to Be Happy; Buck Trend Toward Perfection

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Homes are becoming simply houses or shelters because of unrealistic pressure for perfection placed on American women, the editor of two magazines for women recently told a group of home economists in business.

Explaining what he meant by "pressure," the editor said a woman is supposed to keep a house spotlessly clean, keep herself elegantly groomed, prepare excellent meals, work 18 hours a day, and still be happy and sympathetic. Such standards, he maintains, are impossible even for a superwoman.

"Let up on yourselves," he told the women. "You don't have to be a paragon every minute, every day, every year."

Maybe not. But who is going to be brave enough to start this letting-up trend?

Who is going to say, "Kids are more important than a lawn that looks like green velvet—so any child in the neighborhood is welcome to play in our yard?"

Isn't a house where no one is allowed to make any clutter more of a shelter than a home? (And yet that attitude is fairly typical of today's housewives struggling for perfection.)

If all of her friends are struggling to look 10 years younger, what woman is going to have the courage to say, "I'm old enough to have some gray hair—so why pretend I'm not by keeping it dyed? I'm old enough to have a few wrinkles—so why worry about them? I'm old enough to have grandchildren—so what's so terrible about looking like a grandmother?"

Women today do need to relax their standards enough to get more pleasure and enjoyment out of life, and to let their families get a little more.

But who is going to buck the trend toward perfection and risk having her friends and neighbors look down their noses at her?

Standing in front of the group are Lance Robinson and Miss Dawn Robinson.

Mrs. Crosslin, C. Pahlow Are New Matron and Patron

The 1965 officers of Pettis Chapter No. 279, Order of the Eastern Star, were installed on Dec. 12 at Masonic Temple. Mrs. Crosslin is new worthy matron, Charlie Pahlow, worthy patron. The Blue Room was decorated in keeping with the Grand Chapter theme for 1965. On the East Wall was a large pastoral mural presenting the symbol, "Trees." At the back of each Star Point chair was a large rose tree. A sheaf was on a pedestal on the dais, and at the foot of the dais, in front of the pedestal in the West, and on the organ, were vases of red roses, to represent the emblem and the flower of the year.

A musical prelude by Mrs. B. B. Bess preceded the installation program, which was opened by the entrance of Mrs. Charlie Pahlow, worthy matron, and Ross Stephens, worthy patron, followed by the installing officers.

The Bible presentation was by Mrs. Charlie Hofheins, grand representative of Delaware. She was assisted by members of Job's Daughters Bethel No. 15. The girls wore white satin robes, and softly sang "Breathe On Me" as they entered the room and formed a cross at the altar. The flag of the United States of America was presented by Jim Pruett, with John Pahlow and Raymond Pahlow serving as escorts. Tribute to the flag was given by Pruett, and Charles Hofheins sang "You're a Grand Old Flag."

The Eastern Star Flag was presented by Mrs. J. B. Lyon, with Mrs. James Finley, Mrs. Joe Brereton, Mrs. W. B. Burris, Mrs. Marion Meyers, and Mrs. Elsie Burgenger as escorts. Escorts wore satin capes in the star point colors. Mrs. Lyon gave the tribute to the flag, and Hofheins sang appropriate words to the tune of "You're a Grand Old Flag."

patron welcomed guests, and the worthy matron introduced the distinguished guests, who were: Mrs. Frank Coffman, past grand matron; John Owen and Edwin W. Kettleson, past grand patrons; Mrs. Ross Stephens, district deputy grand matron of the 36th district; and Mrs. Charles Hofheins, grand representative of Delaware. She then introduced the installing officers, who were: Mrs. Coffman, installing grand matron; Don McQueen, installing grand patron; Mrs. Karen Robinson, installing grand chaplain; Mrs. Ross Stephens, installing grand marshal; Mrs. B. B. Bess, installing grand organist; and Mrs. Handy Handley, floral marshal.

The following officers were then installed: Mrs. Ray Crosslin, worthy matron; Charlie Pahlow, worthy patron; Mrs. Kurman Riley, associate matron; Marion Meyers, associate patron; Mrs. John Staubli; secretary: Mrs. Don McQueen, treasurer; Miss Sue Radar, conductress; Mrs. Ann Payton, chaplain; Mrs. Charlie Pahlow, marshal; Mrs. Lee Thomas, organist; Mrs. James Finley, Adah; Mrs. Joe Brereton, Ruth; Mrs.

W. G. Burris, Martha; Mrs. Marion Meyers, Electa; Mrs. James Michael, warder; Harold John St. Clair, Esther.

As Mrs. Crosslin stood at the altar following her installation present and to be installed later as worthy matron, Mrs. T. E. Owen sang, "My God and I" and Mrs. Crosslin's husband presented her with a corsage of red roses.

As Pahlow stood at the altar following his installation as worthy patron, Mrs. Owen sang appropriate words to the tune of "Old Black Joe", and Pahlow was presented a boutonniere by his wife.

Presentation of star point colors was by Mrs. Handy Handley, who presented each star point officer with a nosegay of violets and red roses. She was assisted by Mrs. Ross Stephens.

The worthy matron's flowers were presented to her by her grandchildren, Miss Dawn Robinson and Lance Robinson, and her daughter Mrs. Karen Robinson, presented the gavel. The gavel had been used by Mrs. Robinson as an officer in Job's Daughters.

The newly installed worthy matron and worthy patron were honored at a ceremony given by the 1965 officers.

The address of the worthy matron was in verse. At the close of her address, she introduced members of her family and special friends who were present.

The worthy patron also addressed guests and introduced his family.

The past matron's jewel was presented to Mrs. Pahlow by Mrs. John Staubli, and the past patron's jewel was presented to Stephens by Hofheins.

Remarks were made by Mrs. Coffman, Owen, Kettleson, Mrs. Stephens and Mrs. Hofheins, and Mrs. Pauline Vance, who spoke for the 1965 worthy matrons, and worthy patrons of the district. The meeting was closed with singing of "God Be With You," prayer by the worthy matron's pastor, the Rev. J. A. Butler, and repeating of the Mizpah benediction.

A reception was held in the dining room at the close of the meeting. The Past Matrons and Patrons Club of Pettis Chapter had charge of the reception, with Mrs. W. Z. Heady serving as chairman. Mrs. George Chamberlin and Mrs. Stephens served at the reception table.

Mrs. Chamberlin was general chairman for the installation, Mrs. Leonard Hall was chairman of decorations, Miss Ruth Burford and Roy Spears were in charge of the guest books, and Leonard Hall, W. G. Burris, Woodrow Rader and Jewell Nave served as ushers.

Michigan, Wichita Score Wins Monday

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sensational performances by Michigan whiz Cazzie Russell and Wichita All-America Dave Stallworth have kept the holiday ball rolling for the nation's top two college basketball powers.

Russell rattled the Madison Square Garden boards for 36 points, leading the No. 1 ranked Wolverines over stubborn Manhattan 90-77 in a first-round game of the ECAC Holiday Festival at New York Monday night.

Stallworth, meanwhile, scored 20 of his 29 points in a second-half rally that shot No. 2 Wichita past previously-unbeaten Villanova 86-74 and into the finals of the Quaker City Tournament at Philadelphia.

Nine of the top ten teams in The Associated Press ratings went to the post in tournaments that blanketed the country. The only losers were Illinois and St. Louis, beaten by other members of the select group.

St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, which crashed the top ten for the first time on this week's ballot, outlasted the sixth-ranked Illinois 75-71 — after blowing a 16-point lead — and gained the Quaker City finals opposite Wichita. The unbeaten, 10th-ranked Hawks have won nine starts—including victories over then nationally ranked Davidson and St. John's, N.Y.

St. Louis, No. 9, fell 98-68 before a furious second-half rush by seventh-ranked Indiana in the opening round of the Memphis State Classic. The Hoosiers, 8-0, meet the host team, 95-92 overtime victor over Southern Methodist, for the title tonight.

Minnesota and San Francisco, the only other unbeaten clubs among the national leaders, advanced in West Coast tournaments but unheralded Washington threw a scare at the third-ranked Gophers before bowing 77-76 in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic. The fifth-ranked Dons matched Minnesota's 7-0 record by smothering Pepperdine 103-64 in a WCAC tournament contest.

Fourth-ranked UCLA, unbeaten Utah and Iowa joined Minnesota in the Los Angeles semifinals. The Bruins ran their winning string to seven after an opening loss to Illinois by whipping Arizona 99-79. Utah, 9-0, nipped Michigan State 71-65 and Iowa defeated Southern California 71-65.

Duke's no. 8 Blue Devils, idle Monday, seek their sixth victory in seven starts at Ohio State Wednesday night.

Russell, Michigan's 6-foot-6 backcourt ace, scored 22 first-half points, hitting on 10 of 15 shots from the floor, to pace the Wolverines to a 45-39 halftime margin. The Big Ten favorites wrapped up their seventh victory in eight decisions with a 17-2 burst midway in the second half, Russell contributing seven more points.

Cazzie finished with a 15-for-26 night from the field, six of seven free throws, 13 rebounds and five assists.

Bill Bradley, Princeton's All-America and Olympic star, matched Russell's 36 points as the Tigers outran Syracuse 79-69 in another ECAC first-round. Princeton meets Michigan and once-beaten Cincinnati plays St. John's in Wednesday's semifinals. The Bearcats ripped Temple 83-56 and the Redmen edged LaSalle 78-71 Monday.

Wichita, beaten only by Michigan in eight games, overtook Villanova on consecutive three-point plays by Stallworth and Kelly Pete with 13½ minutes to play and pulled away in the final 10 minutes. Dave Leach netted 21 points and Pete 16 for the Wheatshockers. Jim Washington scored 23 for Villanova, now 8-1.

Cliff Anderson and Tom Duff scored consecutive baskets in the closing minutes, giving St. Joseph's a 71-69 lead, after the Illini had stormed back into contention with spurts of eight and 10 straight points.

Anderson led the Hawks' balanced attack with 17 points, three less than Illinois' 6-8 Skip Thoren.

Indiana trailed St. Louis by six points early in the second half before the Van Arsdale twins — Dick and Tom — combined for nine straight points that set off the Hoosier fireworks. Jon McGlocklin paced Indiana with 29 points and Dick Van Arsdale added 18.

Eugene Top Seeded In Tournament

The Eugene Eagles are favored to take home top honors in the 32nd Annual Versailles Invitational Basketball Tournament, scheduled to get underway Jan. 4. The tournament ends Jan. 8, after 11 games, some of them with an aspect of vengeance, have become history.

Starting things off, Eldon (2-5) will face first ranked Eugene at 7:15 p. m. Monday, with Cole Camp to face Versailles (5-2) at 8:30. Earlier this season, Eldon had squeaked past Eugene 52-50 in an over-time battle, and the Eagles are out to even the score.

The Versailles Tigers hold a 5-2 mark going into the tourney, with both losses having come from the tough California Pintos. The Tigers, ranked second, will be counting heavily on Dale Tankersley and Dean Akin, two of their top scorers this season, to bring the tournament title home.

In Tuesday's activity, Camdenton (4-5) meets fourth ranked Osage (5-3) at 7:15, another game with a flavor of vengeance since the Indians incited past Camdenton's Lakers 61-59 in an earlier contest. At 8:30 p. m., Tipton (1-6) will go against Russellville (6-3), rated third in the tournament.

Consolation and first place honors will be decided on Friday. The Versailles Tigers, with an impressive record this far along in the season, can be counted on to make a strong bid for the title.

Trophies for first, second, third places and consolation and sportsmanship will be awarded at the end of the tournament.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ben Kerner, owner of the St. Louis Hawks, who changes coaches with the same ease that New Year's resolutions are broken, is ready to begin 1965 with a new one.

Kerner dropped the ax Monday on Harry Gallatin and named veteran guard Richie Guerin as player-coach of the National Basketball Association club.

Gallatin must have known his time was short, realizing he had been leading the Hawks for 2½ seasons. Kerner has had nine coaches in the 10 seasons the club has been in St. Louis, and none has lasted that long.

Kerner explains it this way: "I'm at the point that if I don't finish first I'd just as soon finish fourth (last). There's no glory in second to me."

Under Gallatin the Hawks finished second in the Western Division the last two years and are runner-up now, 3½ games behind Los Angeles.

"There's nothing that we asked Harry to do that he didn't do," Kerner said. "He's a tireless worker. I think Harry did a good job."

But he added: "I felt that after three years our progress wasn't good enough with young players."

"This was something that didn't happen on the spur of the moment. I wasn't going to re-hire him for next season, so I felt it would be in the best interests of both him and the Hawks to relieve him now."

Gallatin, who came to the Hawks after playing 10 years in the NBA and then coaching at Southern Illinois University, left on friendly terms and wished Guerin the best of luck.

Guerin, a former marine who came to the Hawks from the New York Knicks for a reported $50,000 last season, will follow in the footsteps of Red Holzman, Slater Martin, Alex Hannum, Andy Phillip, Ed MacAuley, Fuzzy Levane, Paul Seymour and Gallatin.

Part of his problem with the Hawks will be getting himself and Bob Pettit back in the lineup. Both have been out with injuries since early December and the Hawks have lost 12 of 16 games during that period.

"I hope to play by the weekend," said the 32-year-old veteran who is averaging more than 13 points a game in his 10th NBA season.

"Bob's ready to go," Guerin had hoped to turn to coaching, but at the end of his playing career.

"I still intend to play as much as I can," he said. "If I can, I'd like to play another year." He is the second player-coach in the league, Dave DeBusschere of Detroit is the other.

Guerin was graduated from Iona College in New York in 1954 and came to the Knicks in 1956 after military service. He was one of New York's greatest scorers before coming to St. Louis where he pumped in 1,023 points in 78 games last season and led the club in assists.

Gallatin, who may scout for the Hawks until his estimated $20,000 a year contract expires May 1, 1965, felt Guerin will do a good job.

MU Plays Colorado

K-State Will Meet Kansas In Tourney

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — It is Kansas vs. Kansas State, both perennial powers, and a pair of surprise clubs, Missouri and Colorado, in the semifinals of the 19th Big Eight basketball tournament tonight.

Missouri's spirited scramblers clipped favored Oklahoma State 53-48, ruining Henry Iba Night, and Colorado stunted Nebraska 70-52 in first round games Monday night.

Missouri got sharp outside shooting from Gary Garner, with 14 points and Charles Rudd and Ronnie Coleman, 11 each. But the difference again was 6-foot-5 220-pound Ned Monsees. He led both clubs with 12 rebounds and stole the ball several times.

"Our effort was about the same as our 200 per cent against St. Louis," said Bob Vanatta, Missouri coach.

The 60-year-old Iba was honored between games for coaching the U.S. Olympic basketball team to victory. He was given a standing ovation by the crowd of 7,700 and presented awards by the NCAA, the Big Eight and the U.S. Olympic basketball committee.

Iba is one of two active coaches and four in history with more than 700 victories. He felt the pressure of the occasion hurt his club.

"We can play better than that, gosh sakes," he said. "We put up three crewey shots when we had them by one, 41-40."

Colorado wrapped a streak of 17 points around halftime, turning a 27-26 lead into a 44-26 bulge. Coach Sco Walseth used a zone defense during Nebraska's scoreless period of almost nine minutes.

It was Colorado's first victory in the first round here since 1959. Walseth said "nobody has interviewed me in six weeks and I don't know what to say."

"I don't know how to explain this to our Sunshine League fans. We're so used to playing in daylight here, this will really foul up our pre-game meal."

Pat Frink, a sophomore, led Colorado with 22 and his brother Mike, hit 17. Nebraska's talented rookie, Fred Hare, had 19 points. Colorado hit 47 per cent from the field, only 29 per cent from the free-throw line.

Joe Cipriano, Nebraska coach, was keenly disappointed over his club's relegation to the daylight consolation bracket. He termed it "the worst game we've played since I've been at Nebraska." It was the 10th straight for Colorado over Nebraska since early in 1961.

Iowa State meets Oklahoma in the first consolation game at 2 p.m. with Nebraska facing Oklahoma State at 4. Kansas and K-State play at 7:30, then

Easy First Round Win In Tourney

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Second ranked Wichita reached the Quaker City finals and Cincinnati won easily in the first round of the Holiday Festival at New York, but it was the roughest night of the season for touring Missouri Valley teams, with three defeats in six games.

Unbeaten Indiana beat ninth ranked St. Louis by a surprising 98-68 margin in the Memphis State Classic. Monday night, Maryland stopped Tulsa 66-59 in the Hurricane Classic at Miami, Fla., and Hardin-Simmons beat North Texas 78-73. Bradley salvaged a Valley split by ripping outmanned Massachusetts 101-73 at Peoria.

The Valley now stands 41-34 against outside teams, 32-6 at home.

Wichita, led by All America Dave Stallworth's 29 points, knocked Villanova from the unbeaten ranks, 86-74. Dave Leach had 21 and Kelly Pete 16 for the Shockers, who will face unbeaten St. Joseph's in the Quaker City finals tonight at Philadelphia. St. Joseph's, no. 10 in the nation, beat sixth-ranked Illinois 75-71.

Cincinnati whipped Temple 83-56 with Don Rolfe scoring 19 and Ron Krick 14. The Bearcats moved into the semifinals, meeting St. John's Wednesday. Top-ranked Michigan is favored in the other bracket.

St. Louis will face SMU, 95-92 overtime loser to Memphis State for third place. Tulsa takes on Yale, also for third place at Miami. Miami beat Yale 86-71. Louisville opens play in the Sugar Bowl tourney at New Orleans. The field includes Vanderbilt, Georgia Tech and Texas Tech. North Texas plays at West Texas in the other game.

Stallworth widened his lead in the individual scoring race. He is on top with a 24.8 average, followed by Eddie Jackson of Bradley at 20.0, John Reuther of Louisville 19.3, Willie Davis North Texas 19.0, Gene West of Drake 18.3, Rolfe 17.6, Ernie Thompson of Bradley 16.7 and Pete 16.0.

Grems Lose Two Games To Alumni

In their second alumni game of the season, the Sacred Heart Gremlins went down in defeat to the alumni, 46-45. The first alumni game, the season opener for the Gremlins, saw the Gremlins grab the win from the alumni, 58-52.

Sacred Heart showed some promise in the first period, putting an eight-point edge on the scoreboard. All alumni efforts to score in the second period were matched. At the half, Sacred Heart held a nine-point margin.

The alumni fought hard to fill up the gap in the third quarter and fans were aroused when they soon realized that the alumni might take over. When the quarter ended, the alumni had cut the Gremlins' lead, and Sacred Heart was trailing by one point.

Tough Mat Program To End Year

The final wrestling show of the year is on tap tonight at Convention Hall, with a rugged cast of ring talent set to go through its paces.

Each hopeful of closing 1964 on a winning note, such titans as Moose Evans, Ronnie Reed and Kay Noble will be in action. Starting time is 8:15.

Heading the program is a tiff between the classy Reed and roughhouser of area action—the Outlaw. Reed, a speedster with a solid knowledge of the game, will be spotting his foe experience and weight, but expects to compensate for this by a souped-up offensive designed to offset the Outlaw's power devices.

Another jolting event figures to be the mixed tag team clash, booked for the semifinal. In that one, rugged Indian Joe will pair with Kay Noble to go against Moose Evans and Jean Antone.

Indian Joe, like the Outlaw, has carved a reputation in this section as one of the leading maulers around. Evans, a fast-stepping 290-pounder known for his strength, believes he has the veteran's number and will rely on his barvyn and speed to get his point across.

Noble, back in wrestling after a prolonged layoff, has shown no sign of losing any of her speed or aggressiveness and is well on her way toward the women's version of the Central States crown.

Separate events tonight pit Evans against Indian Joe, Noble against Antone.

in the last period with every second of play counting. It seemed that the alumni were ahead by one point throughout the quarter and the Sacred Heart boys couldn't overcome that point. A free throw scored by the Gremlins in the last seconds of the contest wasn't enough to do the job.

Ron Kruse lead the scoring attack for the Gremlins with 17 big points. Three alumni players shared high point honors of eight markers each.

The Gremlin "B" team didn't fare as well as their older counterparts. The alumni trounced them, 68-38.

The Gremlins took the lead in the first quarter, but the alumni came from behind to take over in the second quarter, leading the score at the half, 29-19.

The alumni kept up their lead in the third quarter. Not much could be done to better the score for Sacred Heart after that. The alumni scoring power couldn't be held back by the Gremlins.

Bob Visentin paced the Gremlins with 12 hits. High for the alumni was Cecil Gerke with 17.

Sacred Heart managed to chalk up one win during the afternoon. The girls volleyball teams downed the alumni, 42-9. The Gremlins took an early lead and held a wide margin through most of the game. Sacred Heart suffered a loss when team captain Theresa McGrath had to leave the game due to a sprained ankle.

Lakers GGo Down By One Point

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beating the Boston Celtics is tough enough under ordinary circumstances but when your two top scorers produce just 16 points between them, it's just about impossible.

The Los Angeles Lakers learned that Monday night as the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division-leading Celtics trounced them 133-112.

The Lakers, front-runners in the Western Division, got just 12 points from Jerry West and only four from Elgin Baylor and never threatened the Celtics, who had six men in double figures.

The victory kept the Celts six games in front of Cincinnati which rallied to top San Francisco 113-108.

Councilmen Buy Tickets

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charles O. Finley, who considers himself a good salesman, has sold season tickets to each of the 12 city councilmen, and he calls it the opening of a new era for his Kansas City Athletics.

Hanging over the city now is a goal of 5,000 season tickets to be sold in the next few months.

The Chamber of Commerce and city officials pledged full cooperation in the campaign following an amicable meeting with Finley Monday.

Finley, who made his fortune selling insurance, hadn't gotten to first base with his ticket drive prior to the meeting. Civic leaders were aloof because Finley was pushing a lawsuit that would give him an escape clause to move the baseball club to another city.

At Monday's session, Finley told the council he was dropping the lawsuit. He promised that the club would stay in Kansas City for the three-year duration of its stadium lease.

"I hope the attendance will be good enough that we will stay for many years," Finley said.

Mayor Ilus W. Davis said dropping the litigation "clears the way for us to participate in this campaign. I hope we can sell 5,000 season tickets. The way to keep this club here is to support it."

Then the councilmen signed their ticket orders.

Wolverines Ranked No. 1 Second Week

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Today's seminar on how to stay on top of The Associated Press' weekly basketball poll will be taught by Michigan's Wolverines, who seem to have mastered the subject.

The Wolverines, ranked No. 1 for the second straight week, gave Manhattan a basketball lesson in the opening round of the Eastern College Athletic Conference's Holiday Festival at New York's Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Cazzie Russell's 36 points overcame some early Garden jitters suffered by Michigan and carried the Wolverines to a 90-77 victory.

Wichita, still second but closing the gap, kept pace with an 86-74 triumph over previous ly unbeaten Villanova in the Quaker City Tournament. Dave Stallworth scored 29 to lead the Shockers.

Michigan poiled 23 first-place votes and 350 points in the voting by 38 sports writers and broadcasters. Wichita, which was 70 points back a week ago,

"My advice, sir-get DE-ICER!"

Gas line freeze can happen to anybody, but when you're young and in a hurry, it's a disaster. Here's what gas line freeze is. Moisture collects in a gas line. It freezes. The flow of fuel to the engine of the car is choked off, frozen tight. You're stopped cold. Luckily, there's a simple solution to this wintertime worry. Be a steady user of either American Regular Gasoline or American Super-Premium. They contain the real thing—DE-ICER—to prevent gas line freeze. No extra cost. No wonder Standard Oil Dealers say: "My advice, sir-get DE-ICER!"

You expect more from Standard and you get it

"DE-ICER" is the trademark for Standard's gas line anti-freeze additive.

Segregation Practices Are Now Out In National Guard

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief of the National Guard said today all 50 states — with Alabama and Mississippi falling into line last — have dropped bars against mixing Negroes and whites in their Guard units.

"The National Guard of all states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico is now integrated," Maj. Gen. Winston P. Wilson told The Associated Press.

"All restrictions, whether by law or administrative regulation, barring membership for race, religion or national origin have been eliminated in the National Guard," he added.

Wilson, chief of the National Guard Bureau, acknowledged that there had been "only token integration in some areas so far."

But Wilson, an Air Guard general from Arkansas, contended that even token integration "represents a milestone in the history of the National Guard."

$35,000 Damage From Suburban Normandy Blaze

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Fire caused more than $35,000 damage Monday night to a suburban Normandy business district.

Firemen from six north St. Louis County departments battled the blaze at Natural Bridge and Florissant roads for 1½ hours before bringing it under control.

There were no injuries. Cause of the fire was not determined. Offices of the Filter Queen Distributing Co. and two vacant offices were destroyed in the one-story colonial-style brick building, which contained six shops.

Fire Chief Arthur Reiter estimated damage to the three offices at $35,000, but gave no estimate on other offices, which had smoke and water damage.

Flames were visible for more than one mile. Several hundred persons watched the firefighting and auto traffic was rerouted.

Robbery Attempt Is Fatal For A 15-Year-Old

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 15-year-old boy was shot while trying to rob a liquor store late Monday night. He died early today in General Hospital.

The boy, Joseph J. Manning of Kansas City, was shot once in the head and once in the chest by the liquor store proprietor, Albert Molinaro.

Molinaro kept a .38 caliber revolver near the cash register.

Steve R. Bock, 15, Molinaro's grandson, was in the store. Bock said the youth walked to the counter and told Molinaro, "open up the cash register and give me all your money. I'm not fooling."

At that point a customer walked in and the robber turned to confront him.

"My grandfather grabbed his gun and shot the robber," young Bock said.

A district patrolman said he had driven past the store, at 9508 South U.S. 71, just before the shooting and noticed the youth lingering near the counter.

The youth had a .22 caliber revolver.

The startled customer dashed out of the store and was last seen running down the highway.
